PRICE TWO CENTS

ALL OUT FOR BIG RALLY IN UNION TO-NIGHT

Many College Champions Have Entered Sports Day Program

INTERMEDIATES AND JUNIORS WERE DEFEATED BY LOYOLA FIRST AND SECOND TEAMS

McGill Juniors Downed 14-0 — Intermediates, in Second Contest, Lost 15-5 — Cannon, of Loyola, Made Big End Runs — Bannon and Suinage, Starred for Loyola in Second — Smith Was Best for McGill — Both Games Poor Exhibitions of Rugby

The McGill Junior and Intermediate teams met the first and second teams of Loyola College on the Westenders' field and again the Red and White squads had to be satisfied with the short end of the score. The McGill Juniors were downed to the tune of 14 to nothing while the Intermediates suffered a 15 to 5 defeat. The Junior game was the first one to be staged and was a poor exhibition of rugby. Neither team seemed to be half trying and the play was ragged at all times. However, it seemed to appeal to the spectators who gathered to the number of probably six hundred, including an enthusiastic gallery of ladies. These latter, seemed to enjoy themselves immensely, if one may conclude from the little screams of delight that they emitted at the exciting moments of the play. The Loyola rooters were also out in force to root their team to victory and many and weird were the noises that floated towards Sherbrooke Street. Another interested spectator during the afternoon's fray was a small dog that successfully eluded all those who attempted to chase him from the field.

The Junior game, which was the first contest of the afternoon began shortly after two o'clock. The game had not gone far when Hawkins, the crack right middle of the Loyola squad went over for a touch after the ball had been brought up the field by good running on the part of the Loyola back-field. The Loyola team started off with a rush and before it was realized they had gone for a touch. Savard failed to convert it. Loyola continued to make yards although they were meeting some stiff opposition. McGill however did not seem to be able to get into stride and Loyola were fast pushing them down the field. On an end run, Cannon pulled off one of his famous runs that netted 50 yards for the Maroon and White. It was a fine piece of running on the part of Cannon. Loyola were now in a position for a touch and a few moments later Britt went over for the second touch down. The attempt to convert it failed and the quarter ended with Loyola 10, McGill 0.

The play improved noticeably in the second quarter but it was still far from being good football. However the McGill line was tightening up considerably and putting up a stubborn resistance. Both teams were frequently off-side and were playing in a listless fashion. The only bright spots and good plays during this quarter was the running of Cannon. On an end run, the second feat of that kind during the Loyola flying wing ran 40 yards, his game. Loyola were in a position for a drop kick which they promptly attempted. Savard dropped a kick from the Loyola line. The whistle blew for a half time a few minutes later with Loyola 12 and McGill 0.

The Red and White team bucked up considerably in the final half and outplayed their opponents on the line, although the Loyola halves were making some nice end runs. The Loyola team, by the way, are particularly strong in this department and most of their points were due indirectly to their long gains by end runs. McGill fumbled just after the third quarter had begun and it nearly lost them five points. Loyola had possession on the McGill one yard line on the third down but were unable to go over for a touch. The McGill line held remarkably well at this point of the game. However the Red and White backs were unable to get the ball out of their own territory and Savard, the Loyola half, kicked for another rouse. The play from that time on was a poor display that was anything but good football, although the McGill halves were doing some good line plunging. The fourth quarter saw no further scoring and the game ended with Loyola 14, McGill 0.

For the Maroon and White team the star of the game was undoubtedly Cannon the flying wing. Although he did not figure in the actual scoring the two touch downs scored by the Westenders were directly due to his two magnificent end runs. Cannon is a track man of good ability and once he gets going it takes a fast man to get him. He is also a tricky ball carrier and is good at running in a broken field. However during the last half he was pretty closely watched by the Red and White backfield and was not able to get away for any great distance. Savard the kicking half also played a good game and was responsible for four of Loyola's points. He kicked a drop from the twenty yard line and also kicked a rouse during the third quarter.

Of the Red and White squad no one in particular could be chosen as a star, for if the truth must be told they were all of colour. However, an apology can be offered for them the fact that they were a hastily assembled team and had little or no practice together. They were very weak in team work which was probably due to the lack of practice. However, in the second half they seemed to be going better and with some good practices should round off into a first class aggregation. There is some very good material among them as was evidenced by today's game and it will only take about a week of steady practice to bring it out. The squad went up to the game this afternoon after being assembled last night and having only an hour's practice or so together so that considering this their showing was not a bad one.

The two teams lined up as follows:

Loyola.	McGill.

McGarry	Gilmour

Anglin	Mellon
Right Inside
Forbes	Yule
Left Middle
Britt	Adams

NIGHT LUNCH POPULAR AT CAFETERIA

Specials for the Late Refreshment Hour
NEW SWITCHBOARD
Improvements in Union Facilities Find Favour With Students

With the advent of another college year, the Union has again become the meeting place of the men of the university for social and gustatorial functions. The cafeteria is giving even better service than which last year broke the then existing records.

The Union House committee wishes to bring to the attention of the eating public of McGill the fact that the cafeteria is run for the benefit of the men of McGill and the narrow margin of profit that is realized is turned back into channels for the improvement of the Union. Those who have been forced to seek other eating houses when the cafeteria was closed in the evening are now returning joyfully to the fold of those who come to eat and discuss the problems of the day in a convivial atmosphere. It is an acknowledged fact among university men that at no other eating place in town can food be obtained of such a high quality at so low a price.

Mr. Honegger, in connection with the re-opening of the cafeteria in the evenings is offering a list of specials which is calculated to appeal in the highest degree to him, who takes the refreshing jaunt after an evening's work or entertainment. At the regular meals the variety is becoming of a wider and wider range. A supper for 40 cts is now being planned which promises to surprise the shock-inured habits of the University eating place.

The new cloak room has proved as popular as was anticipated when the change was planned, but it has been remarked that some of the men have carelessly carried their wraps into the cafeteria. As cloak room is for the use of everyone who enters the Union it is hoped by the committee this new effort to serve the public will receive one hundred per cent use.

The Tuck Shop has now a complete line of cigarettes, candy and toilet articles and is prepared to meet the utmost demands that a critical public can make upon it.

The Date Book is in the hands of the Porters and all clubs and organizations wishing to use the Union for meetings and gathering of any description must enter the request in the date book under the day on which the gathering is to be held.

For the benefit of those who have not investigated the facilities of the Union with regard to billiard and pool tables it may be stated that all devotees of these different games may use the tables on the second floor at a charge which is less than any other room in the city of like nature and with the distinct advantage of playing in a university atmosphere.

Yesterday saw the completion of the installation of a new phone service in the Union. A switchboard installed with connection to all parts of the building. This will be in operation to-day, at the latest, and will provide a much more efficient and more private service than has been the case hitherto. The number of the Union will be changed from Up-town 6800 to Up-town 4101 until ten in the evening when the different parts of the building will have different numbers.

A student brought his mother to the university and was showing her about. The dear old lady was anxious to make her boy think that she understood everything.

"Over there," mother, said the son, "are our wonderful polo fields."

"Ah," sighed the old lady, "what is there that is nicer than fields of waving polo?"—Iowa Frivol.

INTERFACULTY RUGBY STARTS NEXT MONDAY

Meeting of Managers Held, and Plans Were Made
PROSPECTS BRIGHT
Team Has Been Entered by Dentists for the First Time

The first meeting of the inter-faculty rugby managers was held last Friday, October 3rd, and the attendance and enthusiasm augur well for a very successful season.

It was decided to eliminate St. Anne's from the league, as the other teams find it impossible to get out there on Saturday afternoons for the games, and, at present, no better arrangement can be made.

The St. Anne's team has been advised to play exhibition games in the meantime, and at the end of the season they will be allowed to challenge the winners of the inter-faculty league.

For the first time, Dentistry has been admitted to the league, and is expected to enter a strong team. It has only been a Faculty for the last two years, and previous to that had always amalgamated with the Faculty of Medicine for football.

Fifteen games in all have been arranged, and the schedule is as follows:

Med. vs. Law—Monday Oct. 13.
Arts vs. Sci.—Wednesday, Oct. 15.
Comm. vs. Dent.—Friday, Oct. 17.
Med. vs. Sci.—Monday, Oct. 20.
Arts vs. Dent.—Wednesday, Oct. 22.
Comm. vs. Law—Friday, Oct. 24.
Med. vs. Dent.—Monday, Oct. 27.
Arts vs. Comm.—Wednesday, Oct. 29.
Law vs. Sci.—Friday, Oct. 31.
Med. vs. Arts—Monday, Nov. 3.
Comm. vs. Sci.—Wednesday, Nov. 5.
Law vs. Dent.—Friday, Nov. 7.
Med. vs. Comm.—Wednesday, Nov. 12.

Arts vs. Law—Friday, Nov. 14.
Sci. vs. Dent.—Monday, Nov. 17.
As the last game comes as late as Nov. 17th, all the games must be played on their respective dates—rain or shine, and must all start at 3 p.m. sharp.

Campbell Cope, the senior manager, will supply the referees.

The function of this league serves two main purposes: first, every man in the college is given a chance to get in the game, and to make a place on his Faculty team. In the second place, suitable candidates for the Senior and Intermediate squads are often chosen from these teams.

This year the prospects are very bright for a highly successful season: (Continued on page 2)

MANY WILL MAKE TRIP TO TORONTO

Tickets to be Arranged For by Letter

On Saturday Oct. 11th, the McGill Senior Rugby Team will journey to Toronto, to play Varsity. Because this game is such a very popular one, seats are very hard to obtain. Unless at least 200 students decide to attend the game, there will not be a section of seats reserved for the supporters of McGill. Formerly through the medium of class pools, each class sent several students to Toronto, and if this system is adopted, quite a few men should attend the game.

Last year McGill beat Toronto and this year with a greatly improved team, it is hoped that McGill will make a good showing.

Up to the present several students have signified their intention of being present at this most important fixture, and all other students desiring tickets should communicate with Mr. H. C. Davis Sec'y. of Toronto Graduates Society, 190 The Avenue Toronto and will receive their tickets from him on their arriving in Toronto, Saturday morning in the King Edward Hotel.

ROOTERS PRACTICE TO-DAY AT UNION

Lusty Lunged Lads Expected in Balroom at 5 O'clock

There will be a rooter's practice held to-day at 5 o'clock in the Ball Room of the Union. Only a few practices have been held so far and although a lot of noise was made there the rooters are ready for the games. The freshmen so far have been conspicuous by their absence but to-day that is to be rectified. The Freshmen presidents are asked to get around among their classes to show the men the need of turning out.

And not only the Freshmen are wanted. It is hoped that all rooters from the greenest frosh to the oldest senior will assemble at the Ballroom in the Union to learn the new songs and yells and to rehearse the old asked to turn out to rooter's practices.

Students should not have to be lice—every man must feel it his duty to his Alma Mater to cheer on the Alex Olmstead, Bill Gilmore and team representing McGill. Bunsey Robertson the cheer leaders are busy every day organizing the rooters and endeavoring to turn out the best "Thundering Thousand" ever seen at McGill. It is up to the Undergraduate body to help them make a success.

Many students really do not realize the importance of rooters at a football match. Three-quarters of the game is the support from the side-lines and it is up to the "Thundering Thousand" to help keep the teams fighting to its highest pitch.

BOOKS FOR KIDDIES ON VIEW AT LIBRARY

Between October 13 and December 20, the Redpath Library will have on exhibition an extensive collection of children's books, both old fashioned and modern favourites are to be included in the gallery of the reading room. All will be welcome to come and see this large collection and older people are encouraged to come to see it.

The two principle objects of this exhibition are to show the class of books now obtainable on the market as compared with those in general use by past generations, and also to induce older people to cultivate the habit of giving youngsters good sensible books as presents, rather than the worthless trash that is very often bought. If children are brought up to like and understand the right kind of literature in their early reading days, they will in all probability be able to appreciate good works throughout the rest of their lives. Exhibitions of this nature will do much to insure the intellectual upbringing of the coming generation; and it is also believed that by so doing more people will have the inclination to acquire a knowledge of the classics.

The modern books are to be supplied by various firms in the city, while the library intends to place many of the old copies in their possession on view.

CANADIAN CLUB HELD ELECTION LAST NIGHT

A meeting was held in the Union last night by the Canadian Club for the purpose of election of the executive. The attendance was small and the meeting did not last very long. Plans and organization for the ensuing session were discussed at length. The following officers were elected:

Vice-president—Cy Morris.
Secretary—Phil. Waite.
Treasurer—H.H. Hunsard.
Committee above and A. Abbott, Sid Pierce and Alex. Olmstead.

The question of the incorporation of the club came up before the meeting and it was intimated that a constitution would be drawn up and the incorporation more fully discussed at some later meeting.

The vice-president Cy Morris, will hold the chair at the opening meeting to-night at 5 p.m. and introduce the speakers. The president Grant Glasco, will not be able to be present.

UNIVERSITY TRACK MEET PRESENTS PROMISING CARD OF RACES AT THE STADIUM

Pierce, Consiglio and Darling to Run in High Hurdles, Gaboury Etered Pole Vault — Goforth and Rubin to Run — Spence Appears in Dashes — First Four Places Will Tally — Officials Selected — Meet at 2.15 Friday — R. W. Kennedy Enters Many Events — Jardine in Shot Put — Hurd, Michael, Airey and Patterson Are on Card — Records May be Broken if Weather is Good — Arts Have Powerful Team

When the dust of battle blows away at the close of the University track meet, the college historians will unfold their dusty archives, dip their pens, and score out the old records which will have been tumbled into eternity. Given a fair day the runners who will face the barrier on Friday should shatter times that have stood for decades, because not only will the supremacy of Faculties stand or fall, but also the runners will be fighting, and fighting hard to catch places on the University track team. The outcome of each event will determine, in most cases, the men who will have the opportunity to represent McGill at Kingston and who will defend the title of Intercollegiate champions for their college.

The entry list abounds in promises of thrilling races. The starter's gun in the hundred yard dash will send Spence last years interscholastic champion and this year the winner of the Freshmen Sophomore event, Patterson and Michael of last years team, Gracie, Murchison, Pangman, Gill, Dunston and a score of other flashy runners down the track. They are all of equal worth and are all out to win. In the mile Rubin the Maritime star will run against a field of good distance men. Kerr will provide the principle opposition but Clement, Theobald and Milligan will all be well up and might push over the finish in the end.

W. W. Goforth, intercollegiate three mile champion for the past three years, and winners of the harrier run during the same period will lead out the three millers and should step well in front of them.

In the pole vault Gaboury and Consiglio vie for the honours. Both of these athletes have done some fine work in the past few weeks and the exact height that they will go in competition is unknown. Jardine, star shot putter, will have Kennedy, McInerney, Berwick, Weldon Cole and Theobald to beat with Kennedy as a potential contender for a first. The best race on the card will take place when the hurdlers line up. Pierce, holder of the Intercollegiate record, Consiglio, Captain of the McGill team, Darling winner of the Freshman-Sophomore meet and a member of the team for the past two years, will all face the barrier together. T. C. Darling and Coleman are also entered, and might come in as long shots but in any case the race will be fast and the finish close. In the low hurdle feature another strong field is entered. Grier who won the event last year and who holds the college record will have to defend his title against Pierce, Michael, Consiglio, the two Darlings and Lidesky. This race also

DEAD MOUSE JUMPED FROM CADET'S CAP AT CALIFORNIA U.

"Hickory-dickory-dock. The mouse ran up the clock." Only this time he ran up the leg of a reserve officers' training corps of the University of California landed under his cap and smothered to death.

Such is the supposition at least of Roberta Georgeson who relates the following: "I was standing on the corner of Channing and College, Wednesday, opposite that little copper shed, when I saw a man in R. O. T. C. uniform approach the store as if he intended to go in. Just as he opened the door a young lady of his acquaintance passed by him, and he turned to tip his hat amid confusion and blushes."

The real confusion occurred two seconds later, however, according to Miss Georgeson, who swears that she distinctly saw a dead mouse precipitate forth when the unwary cadet raised his headgear.

Needless to say, she did not wait until the possible recovery of the deceased animal so terrifying to the weaker sex, but disappeared as fast as she could, with his indignant co-ed friend close at his heels.

GET MARRIED IF YOU WISH TO SAYS DEAN OF ARTS AT TEXAS

Dr. H. Y. Benedict, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, of the University of Texas, believes that Texas students will never be prohibited from marrying. Baylor University had a deluge of marriages last spring, and in retaliation, the authorities passed a ruling that no students in that institution could be married. "But Baylor is a private institution," says Dr. Benedict, "and can pass any prohibitive rules they please. They may even prohibit all students who do not have pink eyes if they please. Texas University is a public institution and such a rule would not be legal here. For instance, we had a student here once who was charged with murder, but the common law had to take its course. It wasn't our matter."

And the jovial dean took sides against Dan Cupid and chuckled, "I don't know which is the worse—that student of ours who committed murder, or that student in Baylor who has the nerve to get married."

MONTREAL, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1924.

REGULARITY AND PUNCTUALITY.

It is not difficult to point out the faults of our fellow-men; many experience great exhilaration in doing so. But when a fault is so widespread that it becomes a universal infirmity there is no apology necessary for pointing it out, it is then our common duty to realize it exists and possibly find a means of rectification.

At McGill we have one such infirmity, lack of punctuality on the part of students. A concrete example of this was offered at the Cambridge-McGill mock parliament which, according to all publicity mediums, should have begun at eight o'clock. Not until fifty minutes after that hour was there a sufficiently large audience to justify the beginning of the ceremonies, nor was it possible to proceed with them in face of the furore created by tardy ones. Although this instance is cited as an extreme example of lack of punctuality, one could select any of a hundred undergraduate functions and be quite safe in saying that the same fault is evident in a more or less aggravated form.

We are informed by students who have attended universities in England that late arrivals at a college event are very much the exception, not the rule. If a debate is scheduled to begin at a certain hour, it begins at that hour. If a football game is to start at two o'clock, the players are out on the field at that time, and all spectators are there. It would seem that it is a weakness peculiar to Canadians, or, at least, more noticeable in this country.

Why is it that certain persons can so arrange their daily schedules that each action will have its proper time and place, while others could not possibly predict what they may be doing from moment to moment? Perhaps the best answer to that question is this, that a few people cultivate a habit of regularity, while many do not. Those who do cultivate that habit, by an intelligent distribution of time and energy, accomplish much in a short time. Sir William Osler, one of the most famous graduates of McGill, accomplished more in his lifetime than one who is not acquainted with his works could readily believe. But even with multitudinous tasks confronting him daily he succeeded in maintaining a remarkable regularity and punctuality. If it had been otherwise the world in general, and the medical profession in particular, may not have benefited from Sir William Osler's monumental works.

It is reasonable to expect that undergraduates learn in a university the necessity of being punctual, if they have not already learned at the proper place, in the preparatory schools. Self-discipline in this respect would have much valuable time.

The field events will also have an inclination to tamper with past history. Kennedy and Patterson are all set for the broad jump and should do the distance justice. Kennedy veteran track star has behind him a record that can scarce be equalled for his wide spread skill in track events. He has devoted some time to the long jump and should give Patterson a good contest. Murchison, Pangman, Bell and Theobald are all entered in this feature and all will strive to cover the record distance. In the Javelin Kennedy Gaboury Jardine Goddard, and a flock of others are entered in the throwing event.

The half milers look good. Croll, ex Toronto star, Hurd McGill speed king, Alrey a promising runner, Wallden, Duckworth, Theobald and Palmer fill in the card and are a good looking bunch. Duckworth may come up as he did last week and beat the field in the last few yards. Croll is not in good form but will run and should make a place for himself despite his not being very well. Hurd, of course is well known and should be with the leaders all the way. The High Jump has a select entry. Kennedy has held this event well in hand in the past but has a tough field to beat. Cole, Voss, Morton and Consiglio are the other entries. The entry list when closed last night included the following names. Post entries may be accepted and any wishing to enter should see Coach Van Wagner or Manager Fullerton of the track club.

The "Woods" Cup, emblematic of the Inter-Faculty Rugby championship, was won by Medicine last year, after a play-off with Law.

All those desirous of playing this year should get in touch with their manager immediately. The managers are as follows:—

Dentistry—R. Carson.

Science—W. H. Kyle.

Arts—Francis Reid.

Law—A. L. Norris.

It is again brought to the notice of the managers that each and every man must be physically examined, and be placed in the "A" category, previous to playing. There was quite a bit of trouble over this last season, and some games were forfeited by teams playing men who had not been examined.

TOURNAMENT HAS REACHED SEMI-FINALS

Crocker and Wright both won Yesterday's Matches

BRILLIANT PLAY

Semi-Finals This Afternoon—Finals on Saturday

The fourth round of the tennis tournament was concluded to-day with Crocker's defeat of L. Brown in straight sets 6-2 6-4, which was productive of perhaps the best tennis seen so far in the turnery. Crocker who played on the Canadian Davis cup team last year and again this summer, appeared to be in top form, and brought the crowd to their feet time and again with hard drives off his forehand or backhand down the side lines. His low volleys also were exceptionally good. On the other side of the net Laurie Brown played his usual steady game and made some very nice shots off his forehand passing Crocker several times. He seemed to experience a little difficulty in handling Crocker's hard drives on his backhand but on the whole put up a very good game. His services were going well and at times seemed to bother Crocker.

Jack Wright has also reached the semi-finals in the other half of the draw. In his first match he had little difficulty eliminating Moffatt 6-3 6-0 and started out in the afternoon by taking the first set 6-0 from Stan Perry. In the second set however Perry got warmed up and played a great game forcing Wright to 6-4. In this set Perry played a heady game combining deep drives to Wright's forehand with high lobs. Wright overhead was a little off and Perry forced him into a number of errors on smashing lobs. In all the other parts of the game Wright was his usual self, his backhand shots down the line being very good and putting Perry in difficulties time and again. His services were also going well and had a big break. Leslie also won the right to play in the semi-finals by his defeat of Walker 6-1 6-2 while Art Abbott won from Firth 6-4 6-2.

In spite of the weather being quite cold with a little rain now and again a large number of spectators turned out to witness the games and lined the club-house veranda and the sides of the courts. The semi-finals are to be played this afternoon at three and four o'clock. In the upper half of the draw Charlie Leslie meets Crocker in what should prove to be the best match of the tournament so far. Leslie was the Canadian Junior Champion in 1923 and played on the McGill tennis team last year. He is expected to give Crocker a hard fight. In the other semi-final Jack Wright meets Art Abbott, if the dope runs true to form this match will be worth while seeing. Abbott has already proved his worth by defeating Tom Brown in straight sets and will probably force Wright to the limit.

If rain should hold up the play to-day the semi-finals will be run off on Friday morning at eleven. The finals are scheduled for Saturday afternoon and a record crowd is expected.

The Results of yesterday's play are 4th Round
L. W. Brown defeated Mosely 6-4 6-2.
J. A. Wright defeated Moffatt 6-0 6-1.

5th Round
Wright defeated Perry 6-0 6-4.
Abbott defeated Firth 6-4 6-2.
Crocker defeated L. Brown 6-2 6-4.
Leslie defeated Walker 6-1 6-2.
The draw for tomorrow is 3 p.m. W. F. Crocker vs C. W. Leslie.
4 p.m. J. A. Wright vs A. C. Abbott.

RUGGER PRACTICES ARE GOING STRONG

Team Plays Game With Montreal Club on Saturday

The McGill English Rugby squad held a stiff workout on the campus yesterday afternoon, the time being taken up mainly with scrum practice. Line outs, and three-quarter runs. There were fully two teams on the field and the men are very keen and are shaping up well.

Among the many new players this year are Starkey and McDougall who played at English public schools; Bradshaw an old timer who played with the team several years ago; Evans, who played in the Old Country and in the Barbadoes; McInery from a border team in Scotland; and Bourque from Eastern Canada. With all this talent the prospects are very bright, and the team should be exceptionally good this year. Keen interest is being shown in the game, as is evidenced not so much by the number of new recruits, as by the old players who have turned out. Conditions this year are very favourable, the club has been granted new equipment, the squad is being very ably coached, and the prospects of a home and home game against Toronto has added greatly to the zest of the players. The management still feels that there are a great many men who have played the game elsewhere and who are not turning out. In view of the improved conditions, these men are especially urged to give their assistance and to help in firmly establishing the game at McGill for the sake of those men who come in the future from places where the game is played.

A practice game is being held this afternoon at 4.30. The line-up will be found in the notices. The team to represent McGill on Saturday against the Montreal Club will be picked on the showing of the candidates in the game.

BAND INSTRUMENTS LOANED BY C.O.T.C.

Practice Friday in Last Chance to Join

There will be a band practice, at 4.30 p.m. on Friday in the ball room of the McGill Union. This is to be the last chance for students to join and as there is every indication that the band will accompany the team to Kingston, this is an excellent opportunity for a trip.

Bob Logan who went with the Rugby Team to Dartmouth, says they have 48 pieces down there, including instruments of all kinds. The positions are much coveted and even one of the professors plays a cornet.

As the twelve instruments of the McGill C. O. T. C. have been kindly loaned to the Students' Council, by Col. R. R. Thompson, no man need hold back because he lacks an instrument.

Messrs Ivan Burnell and Cliff Menzies will be there to lead the boys. The following are asked to turn out and credit for attendance will be taken.

FIRST CHEMISTRY COLLOQUIUM HELD

H. Ritchie Chipman Addressed Members

The first colloquium of the graduate School in Chemistry for the session of 1924-25 was held this afternoon in the Chemistry Building.

The subject "The Heat of Solutions of Alkali Halides" was ably introduced by Mr. H. Ritchie Chipman. The greater part of his talk was taken up in describing a newly invented apparatus for the determination of the heat of solution of Alkali Halides. This apparatus permits the water and salt to be kept at the same temperature, the temperature to be read, and the reaction watched, even though small quantities of salt are used. The fundamental part of the apparatus is a small silver calorimeter elaborated with various devices for the conservation of the heat, the determination of temperature, and for keeping the pressure and temperature constant. The working of the apparatus was clearly shown by a sketch. After

DARTMOUTH SCENE OF L.W.S. MEETING

Important Changes Made in Scoring System

An executive meeting of the Intercollegiate Winter sports Union was held at Dartmouth College, Hanover on Saturday past when the system of scoring was altered and other matters discussed.

The president of the Intercollegiate Winter Sports Union A. W. Edson (Dartmouth) presided. M. Browster (Williams) vice-president and Secy-Treas. I. M. Brown of McGill attended. Others present were Col. Dietrich coach for Dartmouth ski and snowshoe club, L. Marsh Dartmouth, N. Woodward representing Eastern New England Colleges and Major Stewart Forbes representing McGill.

A proposed constitution for the newly-formed I. W. S. Union was read and discussed. The Union is to be composed of three divisions—Maine, Central (which includes Dartmouth, Williams and Middlebury) and Canada.

According to the new system of scoring, a first in either Ski-jumping or cross country racing will count 10 points, second 6, third 4, fourth 2. The snowshoeing events were given additional points viz 7, 4, 3, 2.

One half mile speed race and a figure skating event were added to the program and if these should prove successful, a two mile skating race will be added next year.

After considerable discussion it was agreed to let each college have its own interpretation on the point of eligibility of contestants. McGill's ruling on this question is much stricter than the American colleges but this is offset by the fact that McGill men have longer courses of study.

Previous to the holding of the championship meet which is allotted to McGill, and which is scheduled to take place the last week in February, each college will run off its own eliminations to decide who will be sent to the final meet. This concluded the business and the meeting was adjourned.

COLLEGE DIRECTORY TO BE PUBLISHED

Names and Addresses of Class Executives to be Sent to Students' Council at Once

It is now definitely known that the college directory is to become a reality within a few weeks. This directory which is now in use at many colleges in the United States is a most useful book to the college student. In it, the name, phone-numbers, address, year and faculty of every student is contained and full particulars of where to get in touch with any undergraduate can be obtained at a moment's notice.

In order to get the full particulars necessary for the publishing of such a book it is imperative that the student's Council get in touch with each class at once. The Council will obtain a list from the registrar, of every man in the University. These lists will be given to a member of the executive of each class who in turn will have his class-members fill out the particulars. In order to have this done in a few days it will be necessary for the Students' Council to have the names, addresses, and telephone-numbers of each class executive at once. Mr. McLean, president of the Council, asks, through these columns, that these lists of class executives be given to him at the Union with-in the next few days. This is very important as practically the whole success of the getting the directory out hinges upon the co-operation of the executives.

Besides the above mentioned details to be put in the directory there will be a symbol attached to the names of anyone occupying an office either in their own class, on teams or in a society.

PICTURES OF MCGILL ON SALE AT UNION

A very interesting set of snapshots some twenty in all, has been compiled by the Students Council. These photographs are pictures of Old McGill and are attractively mounted and in folder form. The folders are now on sale at the Union for 50c. As there are a limited number of these anyone desiring them should apply immediately. The folders are enclosed in a carton ready for mailing, and afford an excellent opportunity for students to send pictures of the different buildings of the University to their friends.

Mr. Chipman had explained and shown the results of the experiments that he has carried out, the meeting went into discussion and soon after adjourned.

ARTS' RUGBY TEAM LOOKS PROMISING

The Arts' Rugby squad had their first real workout on the campus yesterday afternoon. Much good material turned out and, though the men are yet in early-season form, they did some strenuous work and are beginning to round into shape.

Bronson and Gardner, two of last year's halves, made their usual good showing. Bell who was with Lachine last fall, is expected to line up shortly. Many new comers were in evidence and manager "Red" Reid is looking for more likely recruits and is expecting some heavy material when the next practice starts on the campus to-day at four.

Prof: Why are you always late to class?
Stude: Because of a sign I have to pass on my way here.

Prof: What has that to do with it?

SENIORS IN SHAPE FOR NEXT BATTLE

Senior Squad had Light Practice Yesterday

SIGNAL PRACTICE

Squad Getting Into Shape for Saturday's Game in Toronto

Coach Shaughnessy had his Senior squad out for practice yesterday afternoon and although the practice was not as heavy as the one on the previous day was equally profitable for the squad. The practice consisted chiefly in tackling and running, down kicks. Some very hard work was put in at tackling, but this was the only feature of the practice that was gruelling. The wings were put through a practice in getting down the field under Hughes' kicks and to show an aptness in bringing down their man. This is an important feature of the play as the game on Saturday will be largely a kicking game and it is all important that the opponent halves are prevented from running back the kicks.

The practice lasted about three hours and as usual darkness had fallen before the team was called to the field-house. However with the aid of the two big searchlights artificial light was used when the sun failed and practice continued. There was also a light drill in signals.

The squad is practically all over the hard game at Dartmouth, "Bones" Little is back in uniform again, and his hands which have troubled him since the game are all right again. Murphy's back has lost the stiffness from the jolts of the Hanover game and does not keep him out of practices any longer. In fact, all the squad is in first class condition for the clash with Varsity and should be able to go through the game, barring serious injury.

From Varsity come reports that over fifty men are out each day under the direction of Coach Newton. Somerville, Pequegnant and Snyder are back in uniform and going strong. The Varsity line has been rebuilt and is as strong as the one put into the field last year. The Varsity team defeated the Old Boys a few days ago, but in the scrappy McGill team this year it is safe to say they will find few "old boys," at least no decrepit ones.

The Intermediate game that followed the Junior contest was as rough as the Junior was mild. Heavy tackling was the order of the day and at times some very questionable tactics were indulged in by both teams. The referee had his hands full watching the belligerent rugsters, and threw three of them off the field at once. Two of those were Loyola men and one was a McGill man. One Loyola player drew a five minute penalty for a hasty use of his fists in a moment of excitement and the other Loyola man and the McGill warrior were given three minutes each to cool off at the bench. However there was the usual amount of rough play that went unnoticed and several Red and White men were the ones to suffer. There were in all about seven McGill men had to withdraw temporarily from the field because of injuries and among these was Graham Gorrie who was laid low twice. Gorrie was knocked out for about ten minutes after he had received a heavy tackle from two Loyola husky tacklers. Gorrie received a severe blow in the jaw and had to be carried off the field. However he was back in the game a few minutes later only to receive another blow, this time in the stomach that took his wing away for the moment. However he gamely continued to play, although he was noticeably shaken up.

The game apart from the rough tactics employed at times was a good one to watch. The score at half time stood at 2 to 1 for Loyola though there was little to choose between the two teams. However after Gorrie's injury the game seemed to go to the Loyola side. The score was 2 to 1 after a bad fumble. From that time on the Loyola squad dominated the play, though they were hard pushed by McGill squad all the way.

Loyola started in from the outset to work gradually towards their opponents goal posts. Little by little they moved down the field until they were within two yards of a touch. However three attempts failed and McGill were given the ball. The attempt to bring the ball and the ball carrier was pushed over the line for safety touch, giving Loyola their first two points. Corcoran, the midgeot flying wing of the Maroon and White made a nice play. McGill men getting most of the injuries. Adams went on when Ogilvy was injured as did Almond when Dowell was forced to take a rest. The McGill halves were playing a great game and making good gains by bucks through the line. Smith made 15 yards and were making yards oftener than the went through again for 10 yards. Mc-Notre Dame de Grace squad, but were finding plenty of opposition. The quarter ended with out further scoring with Loyola 2, McGill 0.

Ogilvy went on again and celebrated his return to the field by grabbing a fumble and running 15 yards. He was show in getting away as he was off his balance or he would have had a chance for a bigger gain. Suinaga pulled off a nice run when he went through a broken field for 30 yards running back a kick. There was a lot of good running being done at this stage of the game as Smith a few minutes later made another of his nice runs, this one netting the Red and White squad 35 yards. Enthusiasm was provided for the spectators in a private duel in the backfield. It resulted in three men being requested to leave the field temporarily. The whistle blew for half time without further excitement with Loyola 2, McGill 0.

The game up to this point had been a good one and the teams very evenly matched. The second half however was not nearly so good being more a-sided and rather a weird exhibition. Bannon grabbed a fumble and ran for a touch down. It was a pretty play on the part of Bannon and really won the game for his team. For the Red and White squad did not seem to play the same game after. Suinaga had tough luck in his attempt to convert the touch when the ball hit the goal post. Bannon pulled off another of his end runs that was good for 30 yards, and Loyola were in a position to kick a field goal. Suinaga muffed in his attempt at this but the ball rolled to the dead-line for a rouge. Bannon again made a beautiful end run that netted 45 yards. Suinaga kicked for a rouge. Bannon was playing a great game, and getting down the field for long gains. Beaublein, the Loyola inside scooped up a loose ball and went over for a touch. McGill were decidedly off colour. Suinaga pulled off a 35 yard run through a broken field and a minute later Gorrie was downed for the last point of the game. The final score was Loyola 15 McGill 0. Bannon was easily the star of the Loyola team, although Suinaga made some nice runs and kicked well. Bannon is a very fast runner and a very shifty man to tackle and was the knack of eluding the tacklers. He running. Altman at right half, who also contributed some nice running. Suinaga did all the kicking and did it well.

The star of the Red and White squad was undoubtedly Smith. He was the most consistent gainer on the McGill squad. Gorrie played a hard game and was roughly used, but gamely returned to the battle after being laid out cold for some minutes. Ogilvy played a good game and his stunt of scooping up the fumble was a particularly good piece of work. Of the Maroon, Spears and Wight did much in stopping plays through the line.

The trouble with the Intermediates seems to be the same malady that is afflicting the Juniors, i.e., lack of team play. It must be admitted however that in the first half they played a good game. It was only after Gorrie had been carried off the field and several others had been injured that they went to pieces. A little more practice should see the Intermediates a good scrappy squad as they certainly have plenty of material for a champion team.

The line-up in the game was as follows:

STUDY GROUPS ARE NOW BEING FORMED

Well-known Doctors and Students in Charge of Groups

Study groups for the coming year are now being formed and it is hoped that the interest shown in previous years will again be in evidence. The leaders are usually senior students, who are experienced in the work, or members of the staff.

Last year Dr. Gifford, Dr. Best, Dr. Graham, Dr. Roberts and several students held very successful groups and are all looking forward to another year's work.

The book most generally used in the past was H. B. Sherman's "Jesus in the records," although others such as Rauchenbush's "Social Principles of Jesus" and Fosdick's "Manhood of the Master" were also popular.

The S. C. A. is endeavouring in every way possible, to facilitate the formation of these groups. Any person desirous of joining one may arrange to do so by communicating with the secretary of the S. C. A. at Strathcona Hall, or with any members of the board. Any group need ing a leader or a meeting room may apply through the same channels.

Apart from these groups, discussion courses on international, racial and industrial problems have frequently been followed.

There has been a steady increase in the number of students joining these groups during the last few years and everything points to this season being a very successful one.

STUDENT JAILED
ON DRUG CHARGE

Alleged to Have Sold Narcotics to Ohio State Undergrads.

Arrested recently on a charge of peddling drugs to students of the Ohio State University, John S. Munro, Vet-4, of Cuba, Mo., is being held in the Franklin County Jail in default of $5000 bond. With Munro, Mrs. Josephine A. Howard, proprietor of the Grey Cat Inn, frequented by many of the students, was arrested but released under $2500 bond.

Both Munro and Mrs. Howard denied the charge and entered pleas of "not guilty" when arraigned before federal authorities this morning. Their hearing will be held October 17.

The arrest was made by Eugene Ender, federal narcotic inspector, to whom Munro is alleged to have sold drugs actually worth only 90 cents, but for which he received $63 from the government agent.

Came from Iowa

Munro transferred to Ohio State University Veterinary College from Iowa State College at Ames, Ia., last year.

President Thompson received word of the arrest as he was leaving for Dayton. He declared that he had never known drugs to have been used by students.

Mrs. Howard was not found at the Grey Cat Inn, but employees denied the story. Munro has been rooming at the Inn.

The drug alleged to have been sold by Munro is used in the laboratory of the College of Veterinary Medicine. Professor O. V. Brumley, states all drugs used in the department are kept under lock and key except when being used in class work.

Munro is an excellent student, member of the faculty says. He has not been in school for the last two days.

DEBATING SOCIETY
DISCUSSES PLANS

Laval and Cornell May Meet
McGill Before Christmas

The first meeting of the faculty representatives and executive of the McGill Literary and Debating Society took place last evening in the Union. Bert Wells, president, in the chair. Colonel Bovey was present and advised the meeting.

It was decided to employ as far as possible this season, the method of parliamentary discussion or Mock parliament.

Thursday, January 23 is the date set for the Papineau Cup competition. An invitation is to be extended to the University of Montreal to debate in parliament Wednesday, October 22. It was also decided to invite Cornell University to participate in the mock parliament of November 22.

The desire for more widespread interest on the part of the students in the society and the hopes that more would actively engage in its debates and discussions during this year was expressed by all at last night's gathering.

With the first mock parliament only two weeks away a busy period of party preparation is generally anticipated. Doubtless there will be many caucuses held in the next fourteen days.

Last night's meeting was adjourned at six, further plans to be discussed at the next meeting, the date of which is yet to be decided on.

LIBRARY FREQUENTED
OFTEN DURING SUMMER

The McGill University Library was made good use of during the period, from July 1 to Sept. 30, when its doors were thrown open to the public. According to statistics presented at the quarterly meeting of the Committee, the number of readers was 3,076, the circulation for the quarter reached 10,873, and 2,280 books and periodicals were catalogued.

The quarterly report of the Medical Library Committee was also submitted at this meeting as the Medical Library is now included in the University Library. This report showed a total circulation of 1014 during the period from July 1 to Sept. 30 and readers to the number of 889.

Another interesting happening at the meeting was the abolition of the $5 fee which, up to this time, students in music, dentistry and medicine were required to pay for the use of the Red-path Library. Students are now permitted to take out books, not more than three at a time however, free of charge.

Among the recent presentations worthy of special mention are: a Parliamentary Library presented by Sir Herbert Ames; a fine collection of general literature amounting to about 450 volumes, from Mr. William Gronau; some autograph letters, an Egyptian necklace and an edition of Thomas from Miss B. Hickson. There were also presentations made by Mr. George Hies.
